

Winter Quarter

URBDP 586:
Implementation in

Preservation Planning

Graduate seminar for students in Planning, Architecture, Landscape Architecture, History, Real Estate, Archaeology/Anthropology & related fields

Learn professional skills for cultural resource management, preservation planning, and design practice, including:

- How to research historic buildings, landscapes, districts and sites
- Process and criteria for evaluating historic places
- Laws and regulations that affect cultural resources
- How to advocate for preservation of threatened properties

4 credits, Wednesdays 5:30 – 8:20 pm SLN 21751

Instructor: Holly Taylor hataylor@uw.edu

Photos: Mary Olson Farm (White River Valley Museum), King Street Station interior (Seattle DOT), Rainier Brewery (Georgetown Merchants Association), Dowell House by Paul Hayden Kirk (Seattle Times), Original landscape plan for Gas Works Park (Richard Haag and Associates), Palouse Canyon archaeological site (Seattle Times)